Koch, Oestricher, Wheeler, Reisinger.

In the senior class of Evansville College there are several species . . . the most common of these is the species called "fourth-year man" . . . Less common are the species "fifth-year man" and "sixth-year man" had an earlier origin than the other species . . . the best known among the sixth-year men is the one named Alfred Johnson. . . Some circles have it that this individual is a "seventh-year man," but my gosh! . . . Six years is long enough for anyone to get 'A.B. tacked on his name! . . . So we'll stick to six.

My 750 words here will deal mainly with the commonest species — the ones that came open-mouthed into the hall of E.C. on Monday morning, September 13, 1937, in the year of our Flood! . . . There were 108 of them, but baby look at 'em now! . . . 42 survivors — a batting average of .388! . . . There's some inefficiency here some place.

After being psychologized that morning, the Irish elected John Hull, Frank Parker, and Iris Buck their class officers. . . . At the close of a record football season (total score; opponents 198, E.C. 0) freshmen Bill Schenk, Mason Wiers, Russ Goebel, Elmer Johnson, Wetsel Waggoner, Lawson Curnel, Ray Hauck, and Bob Floyd were awarded freshmen numerals for their work on the gridiron. . . . Vance Hartke, Olin Helm, Ray Hauck, and Ferdinand Merta were all quite skilled in basketball and got their numbers at the end of the season . . . Frosh Chet Lynxweiler was added to the yell-leading squad.

During rush week quite a few of the class were rushed and during pledge week quite a few were pledged. They always are, so 27 went Phi Zeta, 14 Philo, 14 Castalian, 14 Sig, and 8 Theta.

In the spring elections Crayton Mann and Frank Parker emerged penniless but victorious as assistant Crescent business manager and assistant LinC editor, respectively. . . . Some other people were elected then too, but what the heck. . . . Oh, yes, during this year the Booster Club was organized . . . the OTM demanded a dorm . . . the Thespians did not bury the dead. . . . Comes fall and the newly born sophs seek revenge by slapping the pots on the frosh. . . . In the class election Vance Hartke, Jean Theby, Connie Pietzner, and Ray Hauck became class officers.

In football the class of '41 again led the pack with Nig Hess receiving the Kiwanis award. . . . Nig and Wetsel Waggoner also received honorable mention on the little All-American team. . . . On the hardwood the class was represented by Vance Hartke and Chris Maglaris. . . . At Christmastime all the good little kiddies got candy from Santa Claus Comiskey, who came riding into assembly on his white charger (hoss to you). . . . Radio quiz games were definitely being done this season, and everybody went around challenging everybody else. . . . In the spring Connie Pietzner had the lead role in the opera Cavalleria Rusticana and Susan and God came to the Climax to four years' work.

Senior Bench in use.

● Seniors

Friday noon.

Coliseum. . . . Oh yes, George Koch was elected treasurer of the S.G.A. on the organized unorganized ticket, and Max Thompson and Ray Hauck were elected assistant Crescent editor and assistant LinC business manager. . . . Also the Thespians gave SEVEN SISTERS and Christmas came on December 25th this year. . . . As juniors, the members of the class of '41 did just lots of things. . . . Duke Mann was chosen class prexy, to be assisted by Lois Jones, Eunice Henke, and Max Thompson. . . . The CAA flew in and a number of class members joined up. . . . Russ Goebel received the Kiwanis award for football — another winner in the class of '41. . . . In December Marge Schnake became Phi Zeta's Sweetheart. . . . In May Fancy Vancy Hartke was the choice of the student body for next year's student prexy. . . . Hartke and Alfred Johnson were also inducted into Pi Gamma Mu. Hartke was also inducted into Tau Kappa Alpha as well as Tom Trimble. Hartke, Hartke, Hartke, Hmmm. Also in May Marge Lambie was made E.C.'s third Junior Prom Queen at the Colonial under the direction of Mr. Mann. . . . That's all they did as juniors.

Comes September again and a new year . . . (oke, fellers, I promise you this is the last one). . . . In September Woody Oestreicher became class president. . . . Mabel Wheeler, Barbara Reisinger, and George Koch were elected vice-prexy, secretary, and treasurer. . . . Also in September word came that George Pickels, former member of the class of '41, had died at Purdue as the result of an airplane crash. . . . In October (the 16th to be exact) E.C.'s men registered in the national draft . . . the first senior supper was held to compare numbers (while the gals oh'd and ah'd). . . . But through special arrangements F.D.R. allowed all E.C.'s graduating eds to remain in school. In November ten seniors were picked for WHO'S WHO — Iris Buck, Russ Goebel, Vance Hartke, Alfred Johnson, Margaret Lehmann, Crayton Mann, Ellen Nolte, Woody Oestreicher, Frank Parker, and Max Thompson. . . . For grid work Russ Goebel again received the Kiwanis award for the second time . . . and "Four-eye Hartke" won the Sig basketball award. . . . In April Seniors James Julian, Margaret Lehmann, Frank Parker, Maryrose Roach, Thelma Small, and Max Thompson were inducted into Pi Gamma Mu after paying a small initiation fee . . . In May there were formals and finals and in June there are thirty days.

Let's see . . . the seniors had a lot of suppers this year and the Thespians gave EAGER HEART . . . what else . . . of course there was that trip to Bowling Green that Sinnett and some of the boys took . . . and the way Sinnett wore his hat on the choir trip.

Well, it's June, and the class of '41 commences, molded and made by four years at E.C. — a change for the better . . . but a change, anyhow. The way each senior spent those years will be partly the cause of his success or failure in life. . . . Here's hoping it's success.

Hopeful.

Phares, Britz, Brittingham, Russell

"Fun's the thing — you can't beat fun!" quote Dopey Cope (junior) editor of this mighty yearbook. . . . And that's the spirit of the junior class. . . .

Starting off with a bang (bang, bang?) — the class election . . . Frank Russell, prexy; Betty Lou Britz, v-pres.; Thelma Brittingham, secretary, and Dale Phares, treasurer.

With beauties in abundance it was mighty hard to simmer it down to five — Margaret Ploeger, Beth McCarty, Dorothy Armstrong, Betty Jane Rice and Hilda Wahnsiedler — but these names went straight to Evansville's own Joe Cook for selection of the junior prom queen . . . too, Dorothy Armstrong was the Castalian candidate for football queen.

Besides beauty, we have brawn and lots of athletic material to speak of . . . OUR "Gussie" Doerner, high-point scorer helped lead the basketball team to the national tourney in Kansas and no telling what he'll do next year as captain of the hardwood — with Lester Ewing too. And there's Monk Montgomery hailing from Central and selected as the most improved player on the squad . . . goes out for both football and basketball and is captain of the football team for next year, to play with Magazine, Duvall and Winnebald. . . . TENNIS finds Cope, Baugh, Hargan back together again. . . .

Versed in oratory, the debate team members . . . Frank Russell, Paul Catt, Addison Riepe and Howard Overton . . . winning four debates straight.

Jr. Prom Queen Candidates: Rice, Ploeger, Armstrong, McCarty, Wahnsiedler.

Junior Prom officials.

The Traveling debaters.

Looking for the birdie?

● Juniors

So we have three fine secretaries — Hilda Wahnsiedler, Mildred Morgan and THE PERFECT ONE — Margaret Ploeger. . . . And she's our "high flyer," along with Sterchi, Lippoldt, Curnel and Miller.

Carrying on the tradition — Frankie and Dotty, seen here, there and everywhere, etc. And there's Cookie-Rice; Grabhorn-Nolte; Wahnsiedler-Pruz; Schneider-Martin (and the choir story); Fickas and Duval. For the Pals, we have Schneider, Horgan and Mackey (The Three Musketeers) and Cope, Baugh, Schmidt, Riepe, Phares and Russell . . . and the Schmidt household.

For those harmonious voices on the choir's trek west this year were, Clayton Mundy, Ethel Morehead, Gladys Cooper, Martha Schlimmer, Jerry Young, Don Schneider and Morris Jarboe.

And Juniors seen in the Rathskeller, doing their part on the Crescent and LinC — Charlie Caniff, business manager of Crescent and Harry Chandler, business manager of the LinC, talking over business problems or just talking. . . .

And for leaders — prexies — YMCA, Oral Fisher; Unorganized, Herbert Sable; Catherine Kessler, and Ruth Stippler, Theta; and Walter Moll, Terpsichorean (?) . . .

. . . And the grand finale — THE JUNIOR PROM, May 31 at the Colonial and an I. U. orchestra — Bob Barnes.

And a bigger and better year next year . . . So Long!

The overseers of the Frosh started the year off right by using slight coercion in selling "Rhinie pots" to the freshmen . . . with Judge Gerry Enlow on the bench and Jack Hahn as prosecuting attorney kangaroo court was most efficient as a control measure . . . Chose Dick Wulff, president; Marietta Taylor, vice president; Walt Winters, secretary; and Jean Bartley, treasurer as class officers . . . First function organized by these officers was a skating party at the Agoga Rink . . . Sophomores Lowell Galloway, Jack Shrode, and Bob Yabroudny held down major posts on football team . . . Paul Chamberlin did his bit for the alma mater as student athletic manager . . . Dorothy Bauermeister was triumphant in race for football queen honors . . . Rose Henke, Kathryn Hirsch, and Nancy Lou Martin held Y.W.C.A. offices . . . Several sophs held important positions on the Crescent . . . Jean Bartley, managing editor; Bill Lettice, assistant business manager; Rose Henke and Don Lumley, vital staff composers . . .

● Freshmen

Armstrong, Bailey, Elliott, Pate.

Stepping — or rather falling from the pedestals that high school seniors are placed upon — with all the prestige and honor and attention still fresh in every mind — one hundred and sixty-four somewhat bewildered youths walked through the doors of E. C. last September . . . Of course they expected to find college life entirely different, but the adjustment that had to be made as quickly as possible was just as hard as their high school instructors had said it would be . . . But these Frosh were also determined to find . . . or make a place for themselves in college!

Their story begins way back in 1940 . . . in September, when the "greenies" first entered this institution of higher learning for registration and a week of orientation . . . They were here just getting acquainted a whole week before the upperclassmen arrived . . . From Bosse, Reitz, Central, and Memorial they came . . . Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, and Iowa also contributed to the enrollment . . . Temporarily Charles Armstrong was selected to lead the group, assisted by Clarence Clark, vice-president . . . June Pate, secretary . . . and Jean Hayes, treasurer . . . The Freshmen-Faculty banquet offered a grand opportunity for the new-comers to become acquainted with their professors and instructors. . . Then classes began . . . the new method of class procedure was difficult to conceive at first . . . it didn't take a second glance to know that Betty Bodishbaugh was just the girl to represent the freshman class on the football queen ballot . . . Speaking of football, huskies "Chubby" Armstrong, George Wimsatt, Walter Bailey, Otto Selm, Joe Wolf, Marvin Bates, Paul Fisher, and Dick Merle invaded the gridiron en masse . . . these boys furnished plenty of action throughout the successful season . . . Ed Hall, former Bosseite, was added to the cheerleaders' roster . . . The freshman girls' sorority, Gamma Delta, was organized under the direction of Miss DeLong . . . Jean Bock was elected president at the first meeting . . . aided by June Pate, vice-president . . . Charlotte Ann Burleigh, secretary-treasurer . . . and Betty Bodishbaugh, social chairman.

Just for spite.

Parking?

More'n one way to make a gentleman remove his hat.

Frosh took to the "Rhinie pots" about this time . . . and the trouble began with the sophomores . . . The battle lost its punch early, however, when the sophs laid down the law at a Kangaroo court held September 24 before the student body . . . the freshmen had as much fun as their upperclass antagonizers . . . Before many more weeks the calendar announced that Halloween had arrived . . . and with it came the first Gamma Delta party—a costume dance for members and their dates held in the men's Lounge on October 29 . . . It was about this time that permanent class officers were elected . . . Charles Armstrong was again chosen to fill the office of president . . . Walter Bailey was made vice-president . . . June Pate, secretary . . . and Betty Elliott, treasurer . . . Musical-minded students found positions in the E. C. band and a cappella choir . . . Marilou Stitt, Malcolm Hall, Dean Seegart, and Carl Procasky were given places in the band . . . while finally after months of suspense Hjortsie announced the members of the traveling choir and the names of ten freshmen appeared on the list . . . Carl Procasky, Cooper Ancona, Dorothy Lukemeyer, Amzel Fisher, Gwendolyn Edgar, Betty Fuchs, Mona Moye, Mary Wilson, and Katherine Luttrell were the ones included on the western jaunt . . . What a thrill when freshman beauty Charlotte Ann Burleigh was chosen Phi Zeta Sweetheart at the Sweetheart Dance . . . then as the semester came to a close the Gamma Delta's sponsored the all-campus Frostie Frolic on January 23 in the Rose Room . . . The basketball season was underway again, and when the call went forth for players six frosh reported . . . Otto Selm, Ed Williams, Oscar Jeude, Bill Newman, Robert Gwaltney, and Mike Ellert . . . When the team journeyed to Kansas City for the National Basketball Tourney, Otto Selm made freshmen proud as his outstanding play spelled "future star" . . . The boy scout service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, inducted Byron Engert, Howard Neucks, Lloyd Roessler, Floyd Grant, Kenneth Dagley, Francis Dagley, Elmer Hartig, and Harold Marshall of the freshman class . . . the Crescent staff was increased as Jean Stinson, Betty Elliott, Bill O'Brien, Chickie Frieberg, and LaVerne Héady were given positions on the weekly sheet.

Here is the beginning of their story . . . the ending cannot be written yet . . . Next year they will be sophomores and in '44 seniors . . . After that they will take their respective places in life.

Some carload . . .
but where's Seegert.

Secretarial Science Club

Yes, we have secretaries here too . . . meeting the second Monday each month for a pot luck dinner at 5:30 in either Women's Rotary Club or women's Lounge at college . . . food (?) and plenty too — shows that secretaries can be good cooks too.

Officers are Mable Wheeler, president; Eunice Henke, vice-president; Mildred Morgan, secretary; Jean Theby, treasurer; and Barbara Reisinger, publicity chairman — Mrs. Lucile Springer, sponsor. . . . Dues 25c a semester — and all women students majoring or minoring in secretarial science or commercial education are eligible to join . . . monthly attendance prizes are given (desk set, stationery, etc.) and a gift is given to one doing the most outstanding work in the department for that current month.

An upperclass woman is chosen, who according to members of the club, faculty and personnel directors of the city's industries, best represents the qualities of a perfect secretary — the five selected — Eunice Henke, Hilda Wahnsiedler, Margaret Ploeger, Mable Wheeler and Mildred Morgan . . . THE PERFECT SECRETARY . . . Miss Margaret Ploeger!

Year's activities include . . . personality clinic . . . outside speakers on secretarial work, teaching and personal problems . . . Alumni members return to tell of their experiences in the business world . . . men secretarial science and business administration students are special guests at one meeting . . . the club sponsored a commercial contest in Chrisney, Indiana, and gave an assembly program.

SEATED: Ploeger, Suhrheinrich, McCutchan.
STANDING: Whitehead, Holderby, Pearson, Buente, Sansom, Stinson, Dimmett, Haag, Lant, Wilder, Morris, Nichols, Armstrong, Fischer, Rupper, Matthews, McNeely.

Desiring to promote the spirit of fellowship . . . as well as classroom work in the home economics department . . . the Home Economics Club again this year was one of the major extra-curricular organizations on the campus . . . Under the leadership of its sponsor . . . Miss Pearl Nichols, the head of the department . . . the club carried on with some of its traditional functions . . . and introduced several new activities this year.

The club started out with a bang by sponsoring the All Campus Party at the beginning of the school year . . . Following this, they entertained the Freshmen with a Kitchen Party.

Active members in the club are those students who are majoring in the home economics department . . . associate members consist of the students who are home economics minors or are interested in that field of work. . . . Proud of having one of the largest memberships . . . the group this year had thirty-five active members and eleven associate members.

Climaxing the club's numerous activities was the annual dinner . . . held in May . . . at this time the officers for the following year were elected.

Officers for the year included . . . President, Katherine Suhrheinrich; Vice-President, Mildred Stinson; Secretary, Frances Ploeger; Treasurer, Mary Edna McCutchan; Social Chairman, Lois Jones.

Gettin' ready for work.

Student members are Eugene Schoonover and Virginia Nichoalds.

● Alpha Phi Omega

SEATED: Clark, Winnebald, Engert, Hartig, Dagley, F. Dagley, McKay, Hahn.
Standing: Shrode, Grant, Kraft, Neucks, Roessler, Wright, Rodman, Stumpf, Sterchi, Rudolph.

Only national fraternity on campus . . . organized in April, 1940, with 25 charter members . . . now boasts 40 . . . active and former Boy Scouts eligible to join . . . is a service fraternity . . . had meetings at Camp Pohoka during summer vacation . . . helped with day and evening college registration . . . eighteen went to national convention at Indianapolis during Christmas vacation . . . furnished ushers for Boy Scout Circus . . . sponsors tea dances . . .

Executives.

fastest growing chapter in Indiana . . . has received recognition from national president of Alpha Phi Omega, H. Roe Bartle . . . gathered data for Student Directory . . . officers are Carl Winnebald, president; Earl Grabhorn, vice-president; Jack Hahn, secretary; John Robinson, alumni secretary; Jack Shrode, sergeant-at-arms; Marlin Rudolph, historian; and James Julian, chairman of campus projects . . . meets every Thursday morning . . . took in more pledges last fall than any other Indiana chapter of the fraternity . . .

Publications Committee ●

Springer, Winnebald, Parker, Olmsted, Bartley, Van Keuren.

This student-faculty federation committee has the supervision of all the college publications . . . members are R. E. Olmsted, chairman, Dr. Van Keuren, Mrs. Lucille Springer, Carl Winnebald, and Jean Bartley, secretary . . . gave authority to Secretarial Science Club to publish Student Directory . . . held a levying hand over the budgets of the LinC and Crescent . . . proposed and saw the administrative board put their "O.K." to a scholarship for the LinC and Crescent editors . . . placed nominees for publication chieftains on spring election ballot.

THIS BODY HAS SUPERVISION OF ALL STUDENT PUBLICATIONS
AS THE FRESHMAN KNOWS FROM THE HANDBOOK AND THE EDITOR FROM EXPERIENCE !

The work done by the LinC staff is obvious . . . at least the result of their labors . . . many's the hour the art staff slaved . . . the typists kept up their infernal pecking . . . the journalists created . . . the photographer stalked . . . the business staff propagandized . . . and the editor worried (ably assisted by Asst. Ed. Bartley) . . . Believe it or not, one story was turned in ahead of the deadline . . . and that by Howdy Ellis, who with Jeannette Rodman and Charlotte Wasson did all the art work . . . most of the stories were in by a week after the deadline . . . and practically all were turned in.

The staff met several times (everybody likes to have their picture taken) . . . and even Theby enjoyed the food . . . the 1941 LinC was divided into five main sections with students outstanding in the various fields named as section editors . . . Frank Parker, intellectual . . . Mary Rose Roach, aesthetic . . . Crayton Mann, social . . . Clayton Mundy, spiritual . . . Tom Trimble, physical . . . Jean Bartley edited the administration section . . . and Barbara Reisinger very efficiently handled the difficult task of interpreting the Evening College . . . Business Manager Harry Chandler broke all existing records for selling ads . . . ably assisted by his staff including Marcella Horny and Jean Crisp.

Anything for publicity . . . even work.

"Click"

Bus. Mgr. Chandler and Editor Cope.

The class assignments were handled by . . . Laverne Heady, Freshmen . . . Nancy Lou Martin, Sophomores . . . Barbara Reisinger, Juniors . . . and Frank Parker, Seniors . . . Frank also contributed valuable advice from experience as Editor of the 1940 LinC . . . indispensable, yet cheerful and willing workers were the typists, Dorothy Bauermeister, Jean Theby, Elsy Grossman, Mildred Morgan, and Charlotte Ann Burleigh . . . Laverne Heady generously accepted and handled several late assignments.

Staff writers who also contributed their vital efforts were Charlotte Ann Burleigh, Joyce Grigsby, Bettye Elliott, Wilfred Shanner, Rose Henke, Evelyn Hoeltzel, Chickie Frieberg, Frank Russell, Jasper Konold, Bernice Schnakenberg, Margaret Ploeger, Thelma Brittingham, Mildred Stinson, Bob Million, Don Lumley, Elsy Grossman, Betty Wilder and June Pate . . . all those humorous (?) captions on the snapshot pages are the result of hours of meditation by Don Lumley and Ed Hall . . . for the dedication we are indebted to the creative efforts of June Pate assisted by Joyce Grigsby . . . Alvin Joest had probably the biggest one-man job . . . however he was ably assisted by his better half, Ann McKeown . . . they could be seen 'most anytime, anywhere . . . Alvin with both hands on the camera.

See if you can figure out what the editor did . . . he sure spent a lot of time doin' it (for the benefit of his Profs.) . . . it seems that all he did was have a lot of fun working with a swell staff.

We did it . . . well, anyway it's done.

● Crescent

Business Manager Caniff and Editor Max Thompson.

Chieftain Max Thompson called the Crescent pow wow together assisted by Charlie Caniff as business manager . . . With vacancies occurring in the jobs of assistant editor and assistant business manager, the publications committee appointed Harry Chandler and Bill Lettice respectively . . . Jean Bartley filled the post of managing editor . . . Covering the sports page and penning the Knothole was Tom Trimble . . . ably assisted in the sports field by Don Lumley, Bob Million and Bill Brightmire . . .

Wednesday, 4:00 P.M.

Creative artists.

Other high lights for the part year include the weekly philosophical column — Somebody Told Me by Clayton Mundy . . . the scandal column shifting from Charlie Caniff to his girl Wednesday, Dorothy Bauermeister . . . All honors A-1 worker goes to Chickie Frieberg . . . Proofreading was under the eye of Bea Buente . . . Other so-called reporters are Frank Parker, Hilda Wahnseidler, Barbara Reisinger, Rose Henke, Jean Stinson, Elyse Grossman and LaVerne Heady.

This is the Crescent's first-class staff for the year 1941.

Oh, for the life of a journalist.

● Aesthetic Development

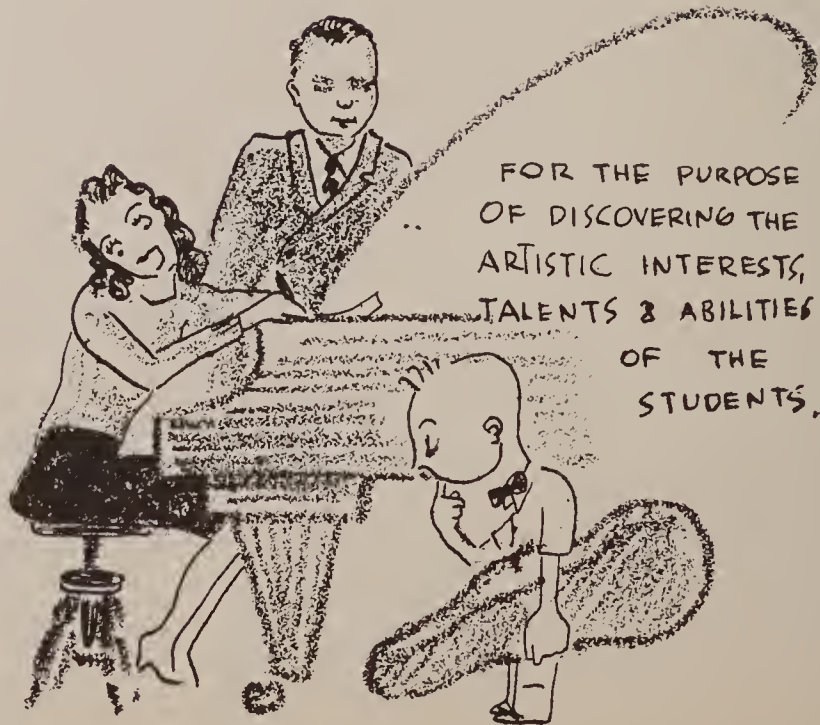

• Fine Arts Committee

Blackburn, Moll, McCarty, Aleck.

Interested in the cultural advancement of the college . . . presents Fine Arts chapels . . . surveys interests, talents and abilities of E.C. students . . . promotes attendance at extra-curricular events of artistic content . . . strives to equip the campus with artistic works . . . gives recognition to artistic talents of students . . . stimulates cultural life of the college.

Demonstration of interest in Fine Art.

Public Speech Committee ●

Hatfield, Wheeler, Phares, Kemp, Hovda, Le Compte.

Chief duties of this group are . . . determining eligibility rules for participation in contest and productions of Speech and English Departments . . . handling of the financial ends of productions . . . insuring attendance thereupon. The committee cooperates with these departments in arranging schedules of debates and contests . . . and with the Thespian Dramatic Society in supervising the production of dramatics.

● Choir

2ND ROW: Bauermeister, Schlimmer, M. L. Miller, Tichenor, Pietzner, Lukemeyer, A. Fisher, Farley, Buck, McCarty.

3RD ROW: Hoffman, Ancona, Steckler, O. Fisher, Young, Froelich, Morehead, Mann, Hahn, Purdue, Carnahan.

4TH ROW: Cooper, Lear, T. Fisher, Jarboe, Jackal, Sinnett, Mundy, Kirsch, E. Miller, Silke, Procasky.

Represents E.C. very favorably in the community . . . the tri-state . . . and in fact, the eastern half of the nation . . . last year journeyed to New York City . . . After taking several short trips to Boonville, Princeton . . . and vocalizing at any number of local churches . . . the choir planned its trip to Nebraska . . . sold chances on one cake to finance western jaunt . . . made an enormous sum . . . had school dismissed for an entire week and then didn't get back until the middle of the next . . . practiced a little (one hour) each Monday, Wednesday and Friday noon all year . . . finally Prof. Hjortsvang agreed they were ready . . . the fun started . . . itinerary included Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Indiana . . . entire trip a definite success, with Elwood Miller's solo lead in "Ole Man River" the headliner . . . Clinton Purdue, Ed Kirsch and Mona Moye provided instrumental solos during intermissions . . . Iris Buck served ably as accompanist . . . Don Schneider and Nancy Lou Martin provided the romantic atmosphere . . . After returning home the choir again financed their vacation, giving a home concert . . . was very well received . . . had a final week-end trip to Nashville.

Officers who led the choir this year included . . . Barney Sinnett, president . . . Nancy Lou Martin, vice-president . . . Clayton Mundy, secretary-treasurer.

Say Ahh.

Musicians, every one.

This year, the college band was directed by Mr. Willard Warch . . . a new addition to the music department of the college . . . Under the baton of Mr. Warch, the enthusiasm with which the students responded was overwhelming . . . Provided music for the basketball and football games . . . helped pep up the crowd during the intermissions . . . under the direction of drum major Weiss, paraded at the crowning of the football queen.

The following students participated in the band . . . trumpets — Dean Seegart, Warren Besing, and Bill Pollard . . . clarinets — May Ella Ritter and Francis Meyer . . . saxophones — Carl Procasky, Malcolm Hall, and Marilou Stitt . . . trombones — Paul Silke and Bettye Winternheimer . . . drums — Bill Davis and Leonard Weiss.

Mr. Warch has only been here a short while, but he will certainly be missed next year while he is serving his year in the army for Uncle Sam.

Preparing for the Football Queen.

Riepe, Capt. Russell, Catt, Coach Doering. (Where's Overton?)

In spite of a new coach . . . inexperienced debaters . . . the defense program . . . and a tough schedule, the Intercollegiate Debate Squad has completed a successful season for 1941. . . . When Professor J. Frederick Doering arrived at the College in October, he was faced with a debate class of green material . . . (excepting of course, J. Overton of St. Petersburg Jr. College). . . . Tryouts were held and the team for the year selected . . . Richard Denbo gained the honor of captaining the squad . . . but was forced to relinquish his position on the team when he went south with the army to Camp Shelby. . . . Juggling his squad, Coach Doering finally came up with the combinations of Addison Riepe and James Overton as the affirmative team . . . Captain Frank Russell, and Paul Catt as the negative speakers.

Debating the question of "a permanent union of the Western Hemisphere" . . . Evansville College opened the season with disappointing decisions against Murray State Teachers and Illinois Normal. . . . Then a defeat at Rose Poly . . . then the team moved on to the Huntington Tournament where Evansville won four matches, defeating Wayne University, Loyola, and Marquette. . . . On a victorious trip to St. Louis, Washington University and St. Louis University fell under the convincing arguments of the Evansville squad . . . Franklin College defaulted to the Evansville debaters.

Looking back over the season, we can sincerely say that . . . interest in debate at Evansville College has been increased . . . speaking experience has been gained by the members of the squad . . . and this year's debate squad has been a credit to Evansville College.

Doering hands it out.

Thespians •

Membership in the Thespian Society is determined by interest in dramatics as evidenced by active participation in dramatic productions on the campus . . . members get together some Sunday afternoon each month at Miss LeCompte's . . . enjoy ginger bread and tea . . . have an occasional pot-luck . . . in addition to social meetings and play readings, tickets were furnished for the History of the Film pictures and Community Players lectures and recitals. . . . Principal production of the Thespians this year was Night Over Taos . . . rehearsals were enjoyed almost every Wednesday evening and Sunday afternoon all year . . . well, anyway the bridge games were fun . . . everybody finally learned their parts . . . including Carl Procasky and Marthagene Ware who played the leading romantic roles . . . Several students earned their membership in producing The Saint's Return . . . staged as a Christmas chapel program . . . the annual production of Eager Heart again very ably given . . . Journey to Jerusalem provided activity for Thespians . . . Sponsored And So To Bed by the Coffey-Miller players of Chicago . . . Thespian alumni presented The Boor for E.C. students . . . a chapel program in April . . . May found the Thespians producing The Devil and Daniel Webster.

Officers for the year were . . . Maryrose Roach, president . . . Catherine Kessler, vice-president . . . Francis Rae Coudret, secretary-treasurer . . . faculty sponsor, Miss LeCompte.

★ A TIP TO THE FUTURE GENERATION OF EDITORS

★ To whip into shape the thousand and one details of publishing an annual — you need the kind of "two fisted" assistance which Keller-Crescent can give you.

On one hand — Keller-Crescent supplies you with the creative ideas and expert technical advice that enable your staff to avoid the blows of unnecessary expense and yet achieve the kind of original, artistic results you want.

On the other hand — Keller-Crescent offers you complete production facilities under one roof, with highly skilled engravers, type setters and printers working together to give you the best of everything from start to finish — and a choice of two different printing processes — letterpress and offset — adapted to meet your special requirements with the greatest economy.

In planning future annual editions, take a lesson from your 1941 annual editors and the many other school staffs whose books bear the imprint of Keller-Crescent quality. You'll find, as they did, that this big creative printing organization enables you to get more value out of your "annual" dollar.

● Social Life Committee

Mann, Henke, DeLong. (Those vacant chairs are for Schnake, Morlock and Nichols.)

This group directs, supervises or sponsors the social life of the college . . . they are responsible for planning the traditional Homecoming festivities . . . strive to build a wholesome social program to meet the needs of every student on the campus . . . cooperates with inter-society councils in coordinating social life of the societies and fraternities.

Women's Council ●

DeLong, Frazier, Lamble, Stinson, Brittingham, Miller, McCarty.

All women students taking 12 hours or more automatically become members of the Women's Council . . . The Council aims are to direct matters of college life pertaining to women . . . to increase the sense of individual responsibility . . . to stimulate interest among its members. The authority of the group rests in the Executive Committee . . . composed of an elected president, secretary, and treasurer . . . an appointed first and second vice-president . . . and the President of the Y.W.C.A.

Among the important activities of the group are the organization of Gamma Delta . . . the supervision and maintenance of the Women's Lounge . . . and the sponsoring of the May Day celebration.

● Men's Council

Lippoldt, Hahn, Winnebald, Morlock, Pollard, Sabel, Magazine

"We're not a governing body, but rather, a group trying to discover and remedy the needs of the men on the campus." Thus Prof. Morlock pictures the purpose of the Men's Council . . . Meeting monthly . . . the representatives of the Philos, the Phi Zetas and the unorganized men led the way this year in settling the smoking problem . . . much to the delight of the fag-flippers . . . Last year they brought forth sorely needed hat racks . . . Every year they serve as a CFRB (Campus Fraternity Relations Board) . . . Next year maybe the long awaited coed lounge? . . .

Women's Inter-Society Council

Stinson, Suhrheinrich, DeLong, Henke, Schnakenburg, Wheeler, Jones

The Inter-Society Council is composed of two members from each sorority . . . the president and a chosen representative. This group . . . through cooperation . . . endeavors to promote good will . . . to stimulate friendship among the sororities . . . to strengthen the bonds of college fellowship. Its functions are . . . to formulate policies used by the societies . . . to cope with any and all problems confronting them . . . to supervise and direct pledging and rushing activities.

The Council . . . by its evident success . . . proves that the ancient adage "one for all, and all for one" brings gratifying results . . . and makes for greater accomplishments.

Handsome, aren't they?

Having been the first society on the campus . . . the Pi Epsilon Phi Fraternity has established a significant place in the history of Evansville College. . . . Organized some nine months before the founding of Moores Hill College . . . the fraternity was first named the Philomathian Literary Society. . . . Soon after the College moved to Evansville the group reorganized as the Philoneikean Literary Society . . . thus it remained until 1929 when it adopted the present name of Pi Epsilon Phi.

. . . Since the very first beginnings of the organization . . . way back in 1856 . . . every brother was . . . and is . . . known by the familiar name . . . "Philo."

Pi Epsilon Phi is proud of its alumni organization . . . the Phi Alpha fraternity . . . and well it should be . . . the Phi Alphas are extremely active in fraternal affairs . . . have some handy clubrooms in the Keene Building, downtown . . . and cooperate marvelously with their younger "frat brothers."

The active chapter . . . larger than at any time in its history with 74 members . . . has had a year of great success. . . . Social events of various types . . . pot luck suppers with the Castilians . . . stag parties . . . the annual alumni dinner . . . several week-end fraternity dances . . . the rush party . . . the pledge supper . . . the annual Memorial Day outing. . . . The high light of the year was the Spring Formal held May 17th in the Rose Room of the McCurdy with Charlie Kroener's band on the stand.

In September the Castalian sorority . . . organized in 1905 at Moores Hill . . . began its 35th school year of social activities. . . . In October the members surrounded themselves with corn stalks, pumpkins, popcorn, apple cider, and hill billies for their first big event of the year . . . a barn dance. . . . In November, carrying out a tradition of the society, the annual literary tea was given in the Women's Lounge . . . the program consisted of a book review by Mrs. Dean Long. . . . On the 30th, at Ziedler's Tea Room, Frances Ploeger and Jean Baskett arranged a Thanksgiving dinner with fried chicken, cornfritters and all the trimmings for the girls and their dates . . . followed by a Treasure Hunt planned by Carolyn Reese and Mabel Legeman. . . . December found the Castalians turned actresses . . . for their skit (written by Margaret Ploeger and Dorothy Armstrong) . . . "The Best Christmas of All," depicting life in a sorority house. . . . On the 17th the society entertained the Gamma Deltas at a Christmas party. . . . In February, Castalians transformed the Empire Room of the Vendome Hotel into a southern plantation . . . with cotton bolls, pickaninnies, southern belles, Negro spirituals and folk songs, flowers, and southern food . . . for their annual rush party. . . . On the 15th they took nineteen pledges. . . . In March, Dorothy Armstrong, Margaret Ploeger, Betty Jane Rice, and Hilda Wahnseidler were elected as four candidates for the Junior Prom Queen. . . . In May, a successful year was climaxed by the annual spring formal at the Rose Room of the McCurdy Hotel.

These are the Gamma Epsilon Sigmas . . . the name they hold so dear . . . oldest sorority on the campus . . . also has distinction of being organized thirteen years before the first national sorority . . . they call themselves the Sigs.

Gave assembly satirizing the good ol' days of the nineties . . . Washington T. Pale ruled that young ladies should not converse with members of the opposite sex . . . the three knitters knitted while Connie and Iris "dueted" "The Dance of the Roses" . . . Dr. Van Buren, Miss LeBompte, and Dean LeShort rendered a tie decision to the timely question of "Should a Young Lady Be Allowed The Privileges Of Going Out With A Young Man Once a Week?" . . . Professor Short Song looked on admiringly as his pride and joy in the name of Mary Kurtz rendered the touching "Vacant Chair."

Sigs are always represented in all college activities . . . they have annual Halloween party with Phi Zetas . . . entertained Gamma Deltas with a progressive party which progressed to the Gobi Club . . . Christmas party . . . placed Christmas tree in front hall and in the college tower (it's just another Sig tradition) . . . Pledge mistress Ethel Morehead planned rush party dinner dance at Continental Room . . . Pledge tea at Bartley's . . . Hell Week Slumber party at McCarty's in Fort Branch . . . Gave Mother's Day Tea . . . Dad's Dinner . . . Faculty Dinner . . . Box Supper . . . Gave the Gamma Epsilon Sigma Basketball award to most valuable player.

Climaxing the year was the formal on May 9 at the Rose Room . . . Mildred Morgan was chairman.

The Gamma Epsilon Sigmas are as much a part of E. C. as the institution itself.

Gamma Delta, the sorority for freshmen women . . . provides an opportunity for freshmen social activities until pledging season opens the second semester . . . Sponsored by the Women's Council, it also proves to be a connecting link between the new girls and the older members of the College . . . Among the Gamma Delta activities of the past year, was a masked Halloween dance held in the men's lounge . . . a wiener roast held at the college ovens . . . and last, but not least, the Frosty Frolic . . . a glittering winter ball given for all college women and their dates at the Rose Room in the Hotel McCurdy . . . Although officially Gamma Delta ends at the beginning of the second semester, its spirit of friendliness lingers throughout the year . . . to relive in the new Gamma Delta the following September . . .

Unorganized Student Association

Vinson, Koch, Miller, Bedwell, Sabel, Meier, Sansom, Seegert, Roettger, Overton, Blankenberger

Only two years ago the unorganized students of E.C. first became organized . . . their objectives were to gain a political voice . . . and to plan social functions such as the organized students enjoy . . . both of these aims have been realized . . . politically as evidenced by Margaret Lehmann's membership on the Administrative Board . . . some signs of disorganization however have appeared in this year's social program . . . The group suffered from the loss of its president, Herbert Sabel, who dropped out of school in the second semester . . . however, veteran George Koch took over to lead the group through the spring election.

● Athletic Development

● Student-Faculty Federation

Athletic Committee

Goebel, Stieler, Doerner, Long, Jones, Henke, Slyker

The committee on Athletics has supervision of the interests of the inter-collegiate and intra-mural athletic competition. . . . In general, it cooperates with the Department of Physical Education in promoting the interest of athletics.

Student-Faculty Federation

Welfare Committee

Fisher, Hargan, Wahnsiedler, Wyatt, Doering, Beghtel

Bodisbaugh takes a T.B. test.

The committee on Welfare does just as the name implies . . . welfare work. . . . It makes an effort to find the troubles of students either financial or otherwise . . . helps to place graduates . . . and takes care of part of students' doctor bills.

● Athletic Board

Olmsted, Hale, Long, Morlock, Hartke. (Vacant chairs for Leland Feigel, John McCutchan, Wilfred Doerner and, of all people Coach Slyker.)

Ten members taken from the E.C. Faculty, Alumni, Student Body and Board of Trustees make up the Athletic Board of Control . . . its duty is the authorization of funds and designation of policy of the athletic department. . . . College prexy is an ex-officio member . . . two students hold elective offices, one being elected each spring from the senior and sophomore classes. . . . Vance Hartke and Wilfred Doerner are holding those positions. . . . Remaining members include Coach Slyker, Prof. Long, Mr. Olmsted, Prof. Marchant, Dean Morlock, and Mr. Henke from the faculty. . . . John McCutchan and Leland Feigel are alumni and trustee representatives.

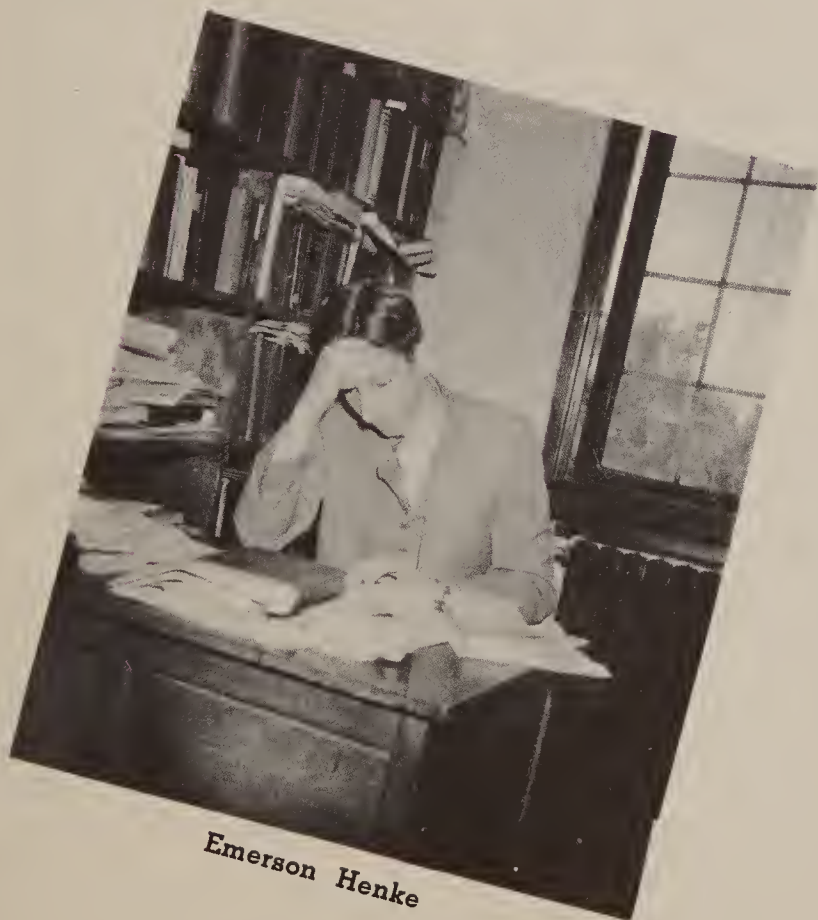

Coach ●

William V. Slyker

William V. Slyker, head coach of all athletics, joined the E.C. faculty in 1939 . . . a graduate of Ohio State University . . . received ten athletic letters for active participation in baseball, basketball and football . . . before coming to E.C. . . . "Wild Bill" coached at Cleveland Heights in Ohio and Reitz High of Evansville . . . besides having successful teams, "Silent Bill" has given valuable experience to the boys who have worked with him.

Business Manager ●

Emerson Henke

A graduate of Evansville College in 1937, Mr. Emerson Henke returns to his alma mater as business manager of Athletics . . . he received a masters in '39 from Indiana University where he took work in accounting and factory management : . . Mr. Henke became affiliated with the college last Sept. as an instructor in the economics department.

Student ● Athletic Managers

Marshall and Paker

Trimble and Chamberlin

First men out to practice in the afternoon and the last ones to leave at night. . . . The men who run a thousand-and-one errands . . . and do many jobs for the team . . . for which they receive little or no recognition.

Evansville College's staff of managers can number anywhere from two to five. . . . This year there were four . . . two seniors and two freshmen. . . . To be a senior manager, and the limit is two, the prospect must have served at least one year. . . . Yes, truly indispensable men are the managers. . . . The next time you see an Evansville team either in victory or defeat . . . remember the forgotten men . . . the managers.

Any good account of the 1940 football season at Evansville College starts out with a blow-by-blow account of the DePauw game . . . every year when the DePauw game comes up the boys at E.C. feel like . . . well you know . . . we can't win but we can sure die fightin'. That is about the way all the students felt about the game, I believe . . . but I also have a sneaking suspicion that the boys on the team were "ready" . . . ready to go all-out and beat DePauw. The game was magnificent . . . not one dull moment . . . not one mediocre play . . . everything they had went into every play. As is usually the case with Evansville teams the reserves were weak . . . they were good players . . . they played hard . . . but they couldn't be pitted against a line which averaged better than 185 lbs. Thus when DePauw sent in a whole fresh team in the third period . . . there was nothing for our boys to do but take a deep breath and plow 'em under. Coming from behind to win 14-12 made the season a success in itself.

However, in the course of the season this determined club ripped Franklin 51-0 and Earlham 34-0 for its two top-heavy scores. The Earlham game coming out as it did made us all feel good since it was "Homecoming" . . . some of the alums from recent years were advocating that we give up football, but they changed their tune after seeing this one. Just to confirm the opinion that the followers were developing, the Aces ran up the aforementioned score on Franklin the next week after the Earlham game . . . and it was . . . as the newspaper scribes called it . . . a "track meet."

Duvall gains 17 —
believe it or not

Football ●

Galloway snags a beautiful Duvall heave.

Our boys ran through all their plays and started over . . . they scored at will . . . from long distance and from close up . . . on running plays and on passing plays. . . I think it may be said that the Aces were at their peak for this game.

The whole season, however, was not as rosy as this. . . . After winning the opener with Southern Illinois Normal the team met Louisville University . . . the game was a good one and Evansville had no cause to be ashamed of its showing. The final score was 13-7 in favor of the visitors after the Aces had led in the third period . . . the fresh men that entered the game for L.U. proved to be a little too much for the already tired home eleven. After a much deserved win the next week from Rose Poly the Aces were handed the second loss of the season . . . this time they were thoroughly trounced . . . St. Joe 26, Evansville 7. . . . Although the team from the north had only been participating in football for two years they had an exceptional team . . . and I might add that had it not been for the determined fight that the Aces put up the score would have been much worse. This game was very soon forgotten when the next week the boys turned in the DePauw upset . . . nothing more was mentioned of the defeats after this game. The other games of the season came and went in their turn and the Evansville College Red, White, and Blue clad Aces finished a fairly successful season with five wins out of eight games.

In 1981 when I look back through this LinC I will have probably forgotten all these scores and will even have forgotten whom we beat. . . .

Yabroudy makes it a first down.

● Football

Montgomery catches a touch-down pass by that time there will be a Slyker memorial stadium and nine or ten large buildings on the campus for the classes besides the 15 fraternity and sorority houses . . . there will be great football teams . . . each member, of course, earning money to send home . . . and athletes of all kinds. But there are some things about this 1941 team that I don't believe I will forget . . . those things are the members of the team . . . characteristics of players and individual style seem to stick in people's minds more than the scores and other incidents. . . . Take Charlie Duvall for instance . . . if anyone on the team could be picked out as the star it was Charlie . . . he ran fast and hard . . . he also threw most of the passes this season. . . . Walter Bailey and Wetzel Waggoner both did their share of the work in the back field. As for the kicking it was handled by two very competent men. . . . I honestly believe that Monk Montgomery was the best punter in the state this year and the extra points that Chubby Armstrong made are evident in the score of every game. Quarterback Bob Yabroudy handled the team well in every situation. As for the linemen (the boys who do the dirty work) every man had to do his job well or the boys in the backfield could not have stood out as they did. Our Captain and Kiwanis award winner, Russ Goebel, was probably the standout in this department. . . . Lowell Galloway at end was a dependable pass receiver and an all around player. Every man on the Evansville squad did his best and the team . . . the coach . . . and the students were well pleased with the season.

Duvall starts on a 20 yard jaunt behind Waggoner.

Fifteen men . . . three seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and seven freshmen came out on the floor for the first time on December 12 . . . all decked in new red, white, and blue "getups" . . . The crowd roared and the Aces tore into their first opponent of the season . . . Cape Girardeau . . . The Aces laid it on the capetown boys right from the first and displayed fine floor action . . . good enough, that is, to pull away steadily during the second half and finally emerge with a 50 to 29 victory . . . The following Wednesday — Courier headlines, "With an 86 point barrage, the Evansville Aces deluged the Cardinals from Louisville University last night at Louisville." The Cardinals were hitting the hoop pretty persistently and ran up a total of 52 points — enough to win most games, but not this one.

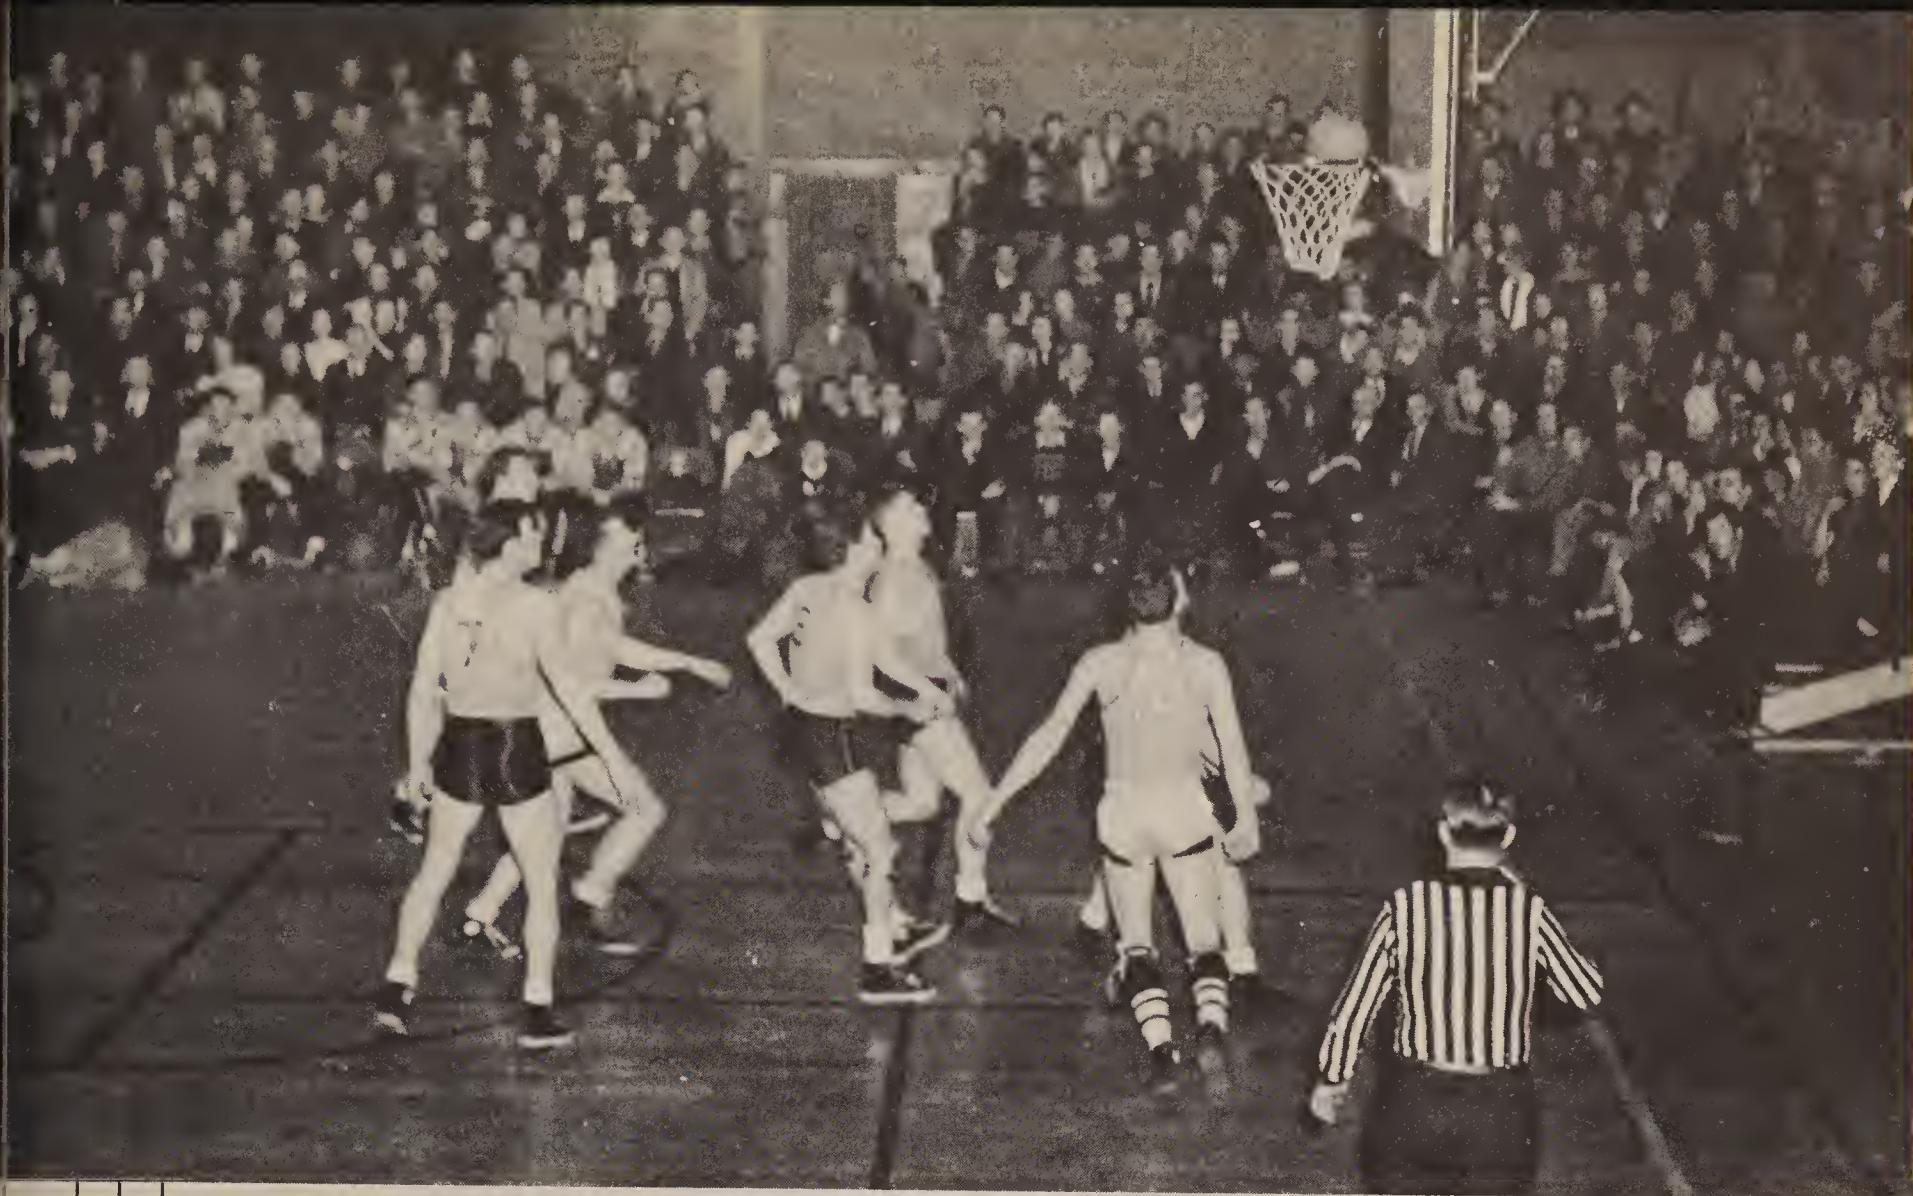

Seniors Hartke, Oestricher, Maglaris

The holiday season was one of great satisfaction to Evansville fans, for the Aces met four teams from all parts of the country and decimated all of them. "Cookie" Cunningham and his Generals from Washington and Lee were first off — and showed a style of play that worked marvels during the first half and the Aces got behind 19-17, but led by Doerner and Monk, the Aces flashed their form of old towards the last and won the ole ball game 41-38.

Centenary College — next victim — was no match for the Purple and White, and Evansville hit its highest scoring average of the year — hitting 18 buckets out of 34 shots — giving them a .528 per cent average and a 42-18 lead. The Aces went on to triumph 80-50. "Bigtime" basketball came to Evansville on the first of the new year when Ohio University met the Aces at the Armory.

"Monk" shot puts another one as Aces lead Cape Girardeau.

Aces lead DePauw 34-26.

● Basketball

Both teams must have made New Year's resolutions that they would run the pants off the other team, because it was a thrilling, bang-up game right down to the final goal, and the final goal decided the contest — Aces 58 — Ohio U. 57. Illinois Wesleyan's Titans were next on Evansville's win column. It was a sluggish game with the Aces winning 50-30. Evansville's first game of the year with Franklin College was another one of those one point margin of victory affairs, with Chris Maglaris putting in the winning point, 38-37.

A lot of Evansville College opponents dropped into town fully expecting the law of average to catch up with the Aces at some time or another — and the team that proved to be right in its prediction was Western Kentucky State Teachers. . . . Although the Aces went down in this battle, they played what was probably their best game of the campaign . . . they even went so far as to lead the Kentucky lads 28-18 at the half . . . The Teachers came back after the half, however, and had the score reading 34 all . . . It was knotted again at 35-37-39-41-47-49-50 . . . The gun sounded ending the regular play with the score at 50-50 . . . Here Carlyle Towery, six feet, four, Teacher center, made things distasteful for the Aces by dropping in two more shots. Final score — Teachers 56 — Aces 52.

The big noise in the Earlham game was Willie Doerner. He had just recovered from a slight injury and celebrated by casually accumulating 32 points all himself. This victory over the Quakers was the second win for the Aces in their race for the Indiana Conference championship, and it put them back in the win column after that depressing overtime defeat the week before.

In the DePauw game the Aces were definitely off their game and lacked the punch that had carried them to victories over such teams as Ohio U. and Washington and Lee.

Hmmm, must be a good game.

● Basketball

Even though their shots from the field were mediocre, the Aces capitalized on free throw attempts and 12 points in the foul lane proved to be a factor in the 38 to 37 triumph.

"Hairbreadth Harry" Doerner was the man of the moment up at the Jasper gym February 10 when our Purple Aces tied into St. Joseph's Pumas. With the time clock reading ten seconds and the Aces behind 43-44, Gussie let go a left hand back shot over his head while two St. Joe players were draping themselves over him and the ball hesitated at the rim, rolled around, and went in to give the Lincoln Avenuers a thrilling 45-44 win. Then came the brawl . . .

on February 16, the old familiar Grizzlies from Franklin came down to the Armory and took up where they left off in the Ace-Grizzly game several weeks earlier, in one of the most hair raising games ever seen in Vanderburgh County. Result: Aces 49, Franklin, 39. With this victory, which was much more decisive than the outcome of the earlier Franklin tilt, Evansville remained in a tie for the top spot in Indiana Conference play, with five league wins against no losses. In the season's second game with Western Kentucky State, the E-Town lads seemed either to have their minds on semester-finals, or appeared to be under the spell of the Teachers, for the contest resulted in the second loss of the season — 60 to 43 — both losses being occasioned by the Hilltoppers. The last two games of the season — the ones with Oakland City and Illinois Normal turned out to be one win and one loss. Oakland City's Acorns were not in any class with the Aces in their game Monday, February 24 . . .

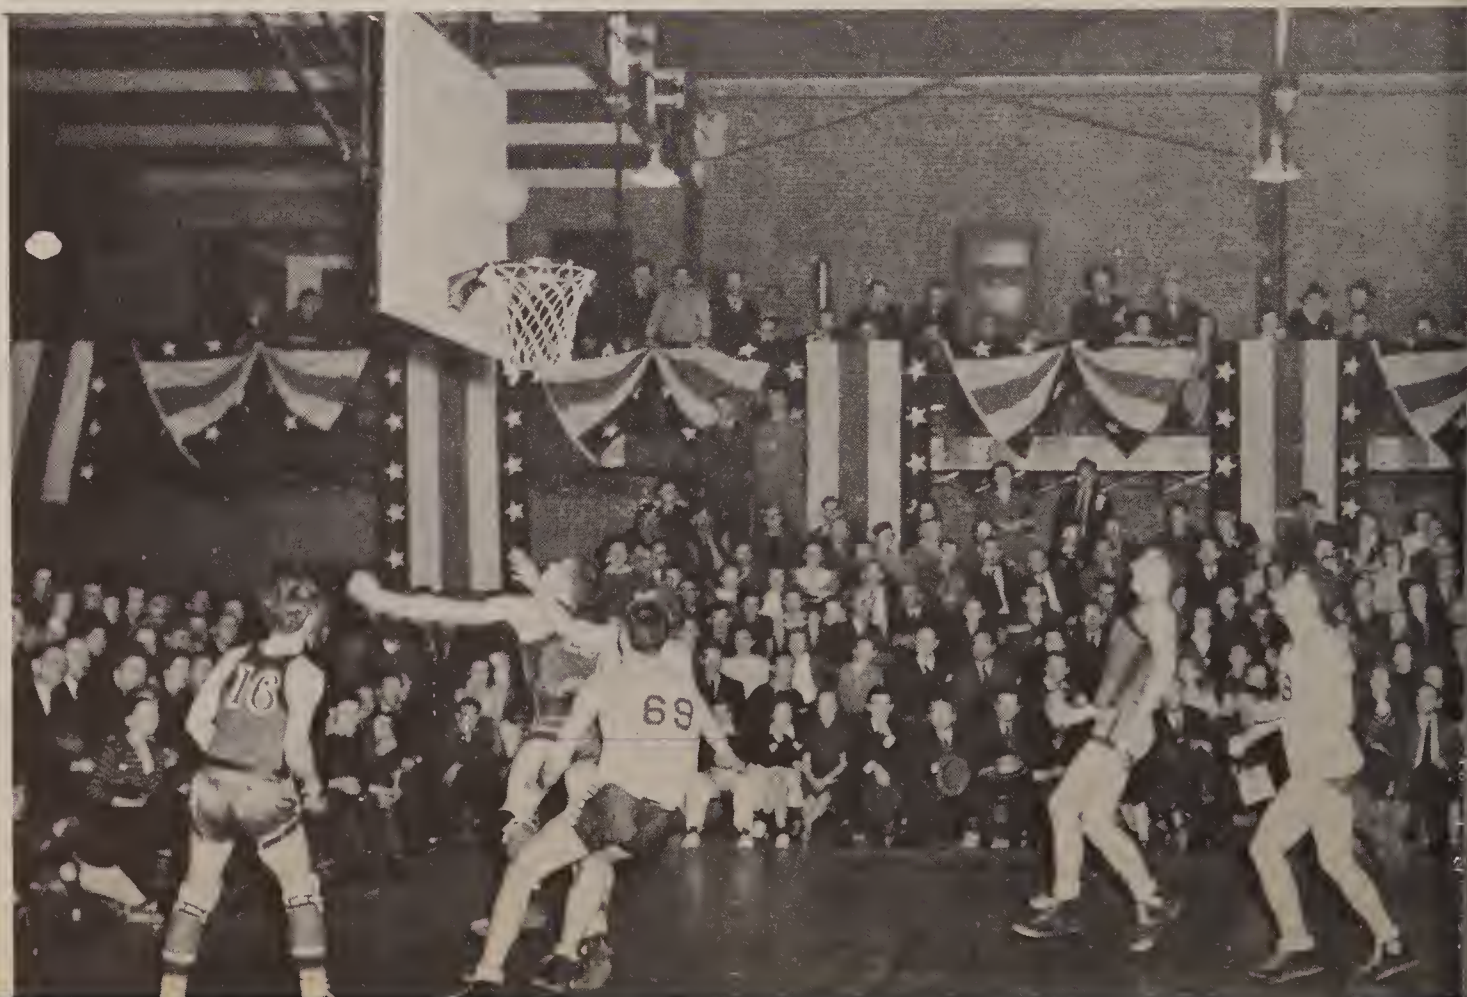

Every player on the Evansville bench saw action and at one time five Ace freshmen were in the scrap and were holding their own — and went on to beat the Oaks 66 to 39.

Revenge was in the eyes of the Illinois Normal team as they waited for Evansville's return visit — they had been beaten by the Aces in January and this time they were determined to rise up as one man and blast this Crescent City aggregation — and they did it too — beating our lads, 56 to 48. Despite this anti-climactic defeat by Carbondale, the Aces completed, without a doubt, the most glorious season in the history of the college and received national recognition by being invited to the National Collegiate Basketball tourney at Kansas City.

Off to the races.

Doerner does it again against Oakland City

● Tennis Team

Number 1 Doubles Team,
Henderson and Maglaris.

Four lettermen returned for the 1940 tennis team . . . and the prospects for the second year of tennis as a major sport looked favorable . . . George Becker was elected captain . . . practice began for the tough schedule.

Illinois State fell victims of a 5 to 4 score in the initial game . . . Southern Illinois got 5 to the Aces' 2 at Carbondale . . . The ball bounced wrong in the Earlham gym as defeat number two came in a 7 to 0 shut out . . . DePauw dropped the Purple 5 to 2 . . . Wins came over Indiana State 5 to 2 and over Wabash 4 to 2 . . . Carbondale did it again . . . the season closed with the fourth win over Indiana State, 6 to 1 . . . This record of four wins and four losses was the best ever compiled by the Evansville College racket-wielders.

The 1941 tennis team received only two lettermen from the team which had done so well during the 1940 season . . . Chris Maglaris and Everett Cope . . . however the aspirants for the other three positions were plentiful and appeared to be very proficient . . . Chris Maglaris was elected captain . . . and the squad selected to make the first trip consisted of two freshmen, Elmer Hartig and Elric "Pinky" Henderson . . . one junior, Jack Hargan . . . besides the above mentioned lettermen . . . Bob Million was marked number six and also slated to see considerable action during the tough schedule.

Don't fight over it fellows.

● Tennis Club

Hmm, no wonder tennis is a major sport.

The Evansville College Tennis Club. . . . The propaganda organ for the varsity tennis team . . . revived itself the second semester to organize probably the most extensive tennis program of E.C. history . . . after sponsoring the annual fall tournament . . . the club went into hibernation during the winter . . . however, with the first signs of spring, the organization came to life very actively. . . . Officers were elected who included . . . Bob Million, president . . . William Baugh, vice-president . . . Elmer Hartig, secretary . . . Cooper Ancona, treasurer . . . Tom Trimble, publicity chairman . . . with Coach Slyker carrying on as sponsor . . . Revolution came with the speed of a blitzkrieg . . . the membership was made open to all students interested . . . even the women . . . precedent was set with spring tournaments for men and women . . . men earned berths on the varsity squad on the basis of their tournament play . . . most important, the student body was made tennis conscious . . . which after all is the function of this club.

● "E" Club

Wolf, Baumgartner, Maglaris, Fisher, Shrodes, Bates, Guard,
Oestricher, Armstrong, Tevault, Hartke, Galloway, Duvall, Selm

Guess it's unanimous . . . four!

Evansville College's club for winners of varsity letters is . . . unoddly enough . . . called the "E" Club. . . . This club was formed during the second semester of the 1930-31 year . . . has been in existence since that time . . . although not always active.

This group attempts to create . . . maintain . . . and extend cleaner and better athletics on the campus . . . and a finer sportsmanship among the students of the college.

Officers of the year were Charles Duvall, president; . . . Charles Guard, vice-president; . . . and Chris Maglaris, secretary-treasurer.

Women's Athletic Association

Whitehead, Grossman, R. Henke, L. Jones, Nolte, Voelker,
Schnakenberg, Suhrheinrich, Hayes. Seated, Miss Stieler.

Tense moment.

Spike it!

1940-41 was a very bright and progressive year for the Women's Athletic Association . . . Since the reorganization in '34 more attention, cooperation, and physical development has been achieved . . . Today it is a prominent club on the campus because of its increase in membership and activities . . . Following are the officers who led the W. A. A.: Ellen Nolte, president; Elsy Grossman, vice-president; Ann Voelker, secretary; and Rita Hayes, treasurer . . . Serving as cabinet members . . . appointed by the officers to supervise the various sports were: Minnie Frances Stockfleth, swimming; Bernice Schnakenburg, speedball; Rose Henke, badminton and tennis; Virginia Whitehead, volleyball; Lois Jones, basketball; and Doris Julian, archery . . . Ann Voelker succeeded Margaret Lehman as baseball head . . . Katherine Suhrheinrich was in charge of the non-competitive sports. The cabinet directed the games under the guidance of Miss Stieler who sponsored the association . . . A minimum number of requirements were necessary to receive different awards . . . 600 points are needed for a medal (pin), 1200 for a sweater, and 1500 for a chevron . . . Points were earned through participation in intramural activities and individual contests.

Swimming instructions were enjoyed weekly at the YWCA pool . . . Late in October Charlotte Lambert's team won over Marcia Yockey's players in a speedball combat . . . After an exciting volleyball tournament, the freshmen were the victors with Charlotte Lambert acting as captain again . . . The Intra-society game in volleyball was won by the Gamma Delta I's . . . In a strenuous basketball tourney, the freshmen another time proved superior over the upperclassmen . . . Sara Jane Whitehead and Elsy Grossman were their respective captains . . . It happens this way every year . . . Is it vitality or ability? . . . Several badminton tournaments were conducted . . . Winners for the girls' singles and girls' doubles have not been determined as yet, but Marcella Horny and Benjamin Zeig struggled through with the title in the mixed doubles set-up . . . This year for the first time in its history, the W.A.A.'s joined in with the men's Tennis Club . . . A tennis match was sponsored similar to theirs . . . Then came baseball with all its fun in spite of the stoved fingers that remained as souvenirs . . . On the social calendar was a picnic at the beginning of the school year, a Christmas party, a supper cabinet meeting, and last yet the most important of all was the annual Spring Award Banquet.

● Yell Leaders

Wilder, Hall, Pearson

A fireside chant

Hardly two weeks of school had passed when the yell leaders' tryout assembly was held . . . sponsored by the Athletic Committee . . . applicants were plentiful and a good time was had by all . . . (anyway, almost all) . . . result of the exhibitions was the selection of Betty Wilder and Ed Hall to assist veteran Evelyn Pearson.

These three conscientious yellers . . . through many hours of practice . . . developed into one of the best cheer-leading trios of E.C. history . . . they attended every football game . . . both at home and away . . . and missed only one of the sixteen basketball games . . . Besides such alarming dependability . . . they exhibited their creative powers, introducing many new yells . . . such as the beloved, "Sock it to 'em Aces" . . . (incidentally all rumors about the relationship of this yell to the local barber college are false).

All three of these . . . whose pictures you see on this page . . . are returning to E.C. next year . . . may we have another successful season of cheering . . . led by this same rhythmic three.

Each year fourteen E. C. students who, in the opinion of the faculty are most representative of the ideals of the college, are given the title of Campus Notables. Seven men and seven women can receive this honor, the highest the college can bestow.

Notables are chosen upon the ideals signified by the seven-branch candelabra portrayed on the college seal. From left to right the candles are named Chremata, which means economic development,

● Evening College

Evansville College, this year, inaugurated a plan to aid adult education . . . and served the needs of about eleven hundred people . . . after working hours, people of all ages, positions and interests come to college to become more efficient in their job and qualify for advancement . . . for intellectual stimulation . . . to work for college degree and for enjoyment of life and appreciation of arts . . .

● Evening College Faculty

They're Responsible.

The staff . . . otherwise known as faculty . . . which leads the evening college students toward these goals is drawn from many sources . . . some are professors in the day college . . . some are leaders in their fields drawn from the community . . . some are teachers in other schools by day.

Just as they come from different places they are seldom found all together . . . pictured below . . . groups (far from complete) of the evening college faculty . . . Dean Long serves as dean of the evening college ably assisted by secretary Bettye Johnson.

● The Evening Student

hood and to Pennsylvania after marriage . . . her husband's in the insurance business . . . they have an eleven year old daughter, Elizabeth Ann in the 6th grade at Hebron Grade School . . . Mrs. Reeser is interested in amateur dramatics, having graduated from Vanderbilt University in dramatics. . .

Mrs. Alberta Warren Reeser, 2337 Bellemeade Avenue thinks Evening College is a good idea . . . she thinks everybody finds the time to do that which means most to them . . . things they want to do and if anyone is interested in self-betterment they will get rid of the work in hand in plenty of time to attend night classes to further their desire . . . Mrs. Reeser has lived here only one year . . . but she was born here . . . moving to Nashville, Tennessee in her child-later taking a business course in Nashville and doing social work in a hospital there . . . but she always wanted to write . . . "My family is my first interest . . . housework comes first . . . civic interest next and then comes writing . . . my hobby . . . and I find plenty of time for all of them" . . . added Mrs. Reeser . . . Her civic interests are Girl Scouts and Parent-Teacher work . . .

A typical day . . . up at 7:30 and breakfast at 8:00, getting her family off . . . Mrs. Reeser does all her own work . . . does her research and text reading at night . . . doesn't write until her work is finished in the afternoon . . . she writes light verse . . . poetry . . . short stories . . . finding many night classes interesting . . . she hopes to take Spanish and the course in Oriental Civilization next year . . .
